The Volunteer Training Project 06/07 organised by the Service Panel was successfully completed. Following the success of last year's Training Project, Service Panel continued to provide opportunities to participants to complete the Award requirements through 20 hours specialised training workshop.

The Training Project was consisted of three sections. In the first section, Pre-Camp Briefing, participants became acquainted with their teammates through the activities and it given them a chance to understand the detail of Training Camp.

Section two, Training Camp, was the most expecting section in this Project. Participants could acquire the thinking, communication and problem-solving skills through a series of games, as well as developed their team spirit and friendship. We were honored to have the 75th Kowloon Venture Scout Unit in delivering a delightful campfire section to push the training camp to a climax.

Besides, panel members explained the needs of different service target groups and equipped the participants with the competence and skills needed to provide volunteering services in this coming service year. We also invited the last year's participants to share their valuable experience in their past service year.

In the last section, After Camp Meeting, participants met to plan for their service contents ahead. They took this opportunity to express their heartfelt thanks for the Panel Members' whole-hearted contribution. This encourage them strive to reach the challenges over the coming service year.
